Professional Overview

I develop curriculum and teaching resources, lead youth and discipleship ministries, write and publish books, and create digital learning resources. This portfolio brings together children's devotions, youth workbooks, adult courses, missions and evangelism training, research, publication design, and websites.

My teaching experience includes 7 years with children ages 6–11 and 5 years with students ages 12–19, alongside adult instruction, individual discipleship, and volunteer training. My professional background also includes insurance account service, sales, program coordination, and media production.

Capabilities Demonstrated

- Curriculum planning: sequenced lessons, clear objectives, teacher guidance, student exercises, review, and practical application.
- Teaching and training: material for children, youth, adults, ministry volunteers, and mission-team preparation.
- Writing and production: research, long-form writing, editing, workbooks, presentations, publication layout, and digital resource organization.

Education in Progress

Expected completion for all three degrees: Spring 2027.

- Doctor of Ministry — Luther Rice College & Seminary
- Master of Arts in Church Ministry — Mission University
- Bachelor of Science in Biblical Studies — Mission University

Using This Guide

Begin with the featured samples on page 2, then use the catalogue on pages 3–7. Each catalogue ID matches a folder in 03 Approved Portfolio. The résumé folder contains both a full professional résumé and a focused curriculum developer résumé.

The collection includes authored work, teaching adaptations, collaborative books, and design samples. Contribution descriptions and source credits distinguish these roles. Teacher copies, student copies, slides, formats, and revisions are grouped with their related project.

Featured Samples

These selections offer a review path across children's learning, youth instruction, extended course design, and sustained research.

C01 Genesis to Revelation Daily Bible Devotions for Children

A full year of children's devotions. 365 daily readings with parent guidance, questions and answers, application, and prayer. Demonstrates sustained planning and accessible explanations for children and families.

C02 PLANTED Youth Curriculum Rooted in the Word

A structured youth workbook. Twenty Root lessons supported by an introduction and appendices. Demonstrates organizing biblical teaching into a practical resource for a defined youth audience.

C03 Principles from Proverbs Wisdom for Young People

Wisdom organized into teachable units. Twelve Proverbs lessons in four units, with teacher answer guidance. Demonstrates lesson sequencing and practical application of biblical wisdom.

C04 Story of the Bible

The Bible's story through its people. Nineteen lessons across seven units with teacher and student workbook materials. Demonstrates sustained narrative organization and a clear course progression.

C05 God's Words Preserved

An extended institute course. Twenty-three one-hour sessions across two trimesters. The paired student and instructor resources include a syllabus, objectives, outlines, exercises, and answers.

B03 To Have and To Hold

Research developed into a published book. To Have and To Hold brings together Bible history, manuscript and textual questions, and preservation. The companion God's Words Preserved course shows the research developed for instruction.

B04 One Kingdom Two Names

A focused biblical-theology paper. One Kingdom Two Names examines the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Heaven, and the kingdom promised by the prophets. Demonstrates extended research and organized argument.
